

I am against allowing use of cellphones during flight. Not only would it be annoying but also a safety concern. Cellphones are also audio and video recording devices that could be used to record crew procedures and the aircraft.